

The mission of the Louis Gregory Race Unity Symposium is threefold:

1. to commemorate Louis Gregory and his historic and pioneering achievements in furthering race unity and civil rights in America, and particularly in Austin, Texas, at Huston-Tillotson University
2. to build bridges of understanding and tolerance between and among different racial, ethnic, socioeconomic, and religious groups in Austin, Texas, in order to provide better quality of life for all
3. to teach by living example the fundamental principle of the oneness of humanity that Baha'u'llah brought to the world (included in this teaching are ancillary events before, during, and after such as study circles, prayer gatherings, children, junior youth, and youth activities/participation in the Symposium, or before or after)
